The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

The Ascension Pathway

“Activation of Cosmic DNA”

Delivered during the June 21 Solstice

Terra Nostra, Garzon, Uruguay

Through Wisdom Teacher Sri Ram Kaa & Angelic Oracle Kira Raa

The Cosmic Blue Starborn Speak:

Hello beloved Angels of great and cosmic light! We come to you today with the great blessing and presence of the divinity of all worlds. Indeed we are at the moment of all worlds, and in the unification of all worlds there is a great presence that has come forward now that is inviting all to enter into the presence of multidimensional space for their continued journeys.

The Illusion of Material Satisfaction

To journey on this planet in the illusion of density is to journey in a way that offers only the energy of material satisfaction.

Material satisfaction is a transient, temporary energy and the greatest illusion of all.

In your world this illusion of material satisfaction challenges many and in the many-ness, many are now fearful. They are fearful of losing their material satisfaction; and are indeed, through this illusion, losing their connection to cosmic presence.

And in the antithesis of this is the cosmic connection that is bountiful, beautiful, filled with light...filled with light, and filled with more abundance than any perceived form of material satisfaction could ever come forward in this realm of illusion.

It is as if you have two hands.
In one hand you have this illusionary world
of material satisfaction,
and in the other hand is all of the cosmic connection and the true abundance of the universe.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

If you were to cut off one hand you would still manifest. If you were to cut off both hands, you could still manifest. For even these hands are not needed when the heart is ignited. In the ignition of the true heart all energy unifies. In the ignition of the true heart there is but one hand, and this one hand is all that is needed as long as together it is open.

To open your hand is to open your heart, to offer your hand is to offer your heart.

If you see one in trouble, offer your hand.

If you see one is hurting offer your hand.

If you see one is drowning offer your hand.

If you see one is lifting offer your hand.

If you see one is needing offer your hand;

and when you offer your hand, judge not if your hand is received,
for all you can do is offer your hand.

It is the choice of each being to receive this hand.

When you offer your hand, if it is received in unison with the hand of another, then indeed a joy filled moment of cosmic union begins. And when you offer your hand, if it is ignored or not received, then you smile that you have offered the gift of your heart and you let go of any need to receive back from the gift.

To give without the need to be receive is to receive the bounty of the universe.
To give without the need to receive.

For within the human experience so often there is a giving with the energy of needing to receive. This form of giving is illusionary because it does not contain the energy of the cosmic heart.

It is a blessing to begin and it is a joy to continue.

Many begin, few continue.

Crystalline Activation

And so it is a joy to continue, and in the continuation of the world now, as your hands ignite with great energy, the great crystals of the planet are revealing themselves now. Teachers, brothers, sisters, family connecting, wisdom, heart...all unifying into one energy of pure light. Through this one energy of pure light all of the cosmic energies are unifying now.

There are many, many, many words, many languages, many symbols, many colors that are being gifted. As these are being gifted, each will receive as if it is a hand reaching through the multidimensional portals of the universe.

Each being has many hands being extended toward them now. All beings are ready for upliftment, and all beings are ready now to go home. To the home of the cosmic heart, to the home of reunified energy, blessings, being and knowingness. And in the blessing and being of knowingness, there is much love, much light, much union.

We invite thee now to feel your hands. Simply notice your hands. Manos...hands...feel energy pulsing through your hands now. Notice the energy that is spiraling in your hands now.

Feel your heart expand through your hands now, and as you do notice now that your hands are connecting with those of the universal mother and father. That there is indeed the divinity of the divine cosmic brethren holding your hand now.

Feel your hand being held with pure love, light and joy.

Pure Love, light and joy, allow this love, light and joy to enter into your heart now, to enter into your life now, allow your hands to become the divine gift of the angelic realm, the ascended Masters, of all of the cosmic brethren of crystalline light.

You are this gift.

Words are an illusion...words are an illusion.

Energy, crystalline pure energy, feel this gift pouring through you now. Feel this gift pouring through you now.

Feel your hands ignited now.

In this time upon this planet we are at a moment of great balance and in the balance both light and dark will find their perfection. For balance comes when all is together. To have one, there must be the other, and in the unification of this energy as your hands come together in the center there is the sphere of oneness.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

Within this sphere of oneness is great creation, and in this sphere of oneness and great creation all this discovered, all is remembered, all is known, all is created, all is...has...and will all-ways be.

What you do with this creation is the future of this world. There are many energies now that seek to use this power of creation in ways that are contrary to Ascension and there are many that seek to use this now to assist ascension, love, and a return to wholeness.

Cradle this gift, love this gift like a baby, nourish this gift and allow it to blossom. You are the blossoming love of the universe, and your universe is blossoming now as if a giant lotus has risen from a seed. And as this lotus rises and as you arise with the Lotus, pay attention to all that is coming forward in your experience of life.

Notice your hands often, for they will become great detectors of energy. Notice your hands often, and in the balance of cosmic oneness, together again prepare for the reunion, the reunion without doubt with your cosmic brethren, for the time is upon thee now for these great reunions to be. Fear not that which you do not understand, for you do understand. Let go of all fear, and through that you will step into the doorway of the divine dimensional, multi-dimensional portal of great love and reunion.

Upon your world now are many, many, many beautiful reminders. The reminders that come forward for thee through the form you know as crystals are great blessings. Harvest this blessing. Be free with this energy.

Invoke and invite the divine to be with thee. Seek not to tell others, simply walk with truth, walk with love, walk with the smile of divinity. As you do you illuminate all. You are an illuminated presence of great love and joy. In this illuminated presence of great love and great joy you will receive the bounty that is beyond the illusion. And in the receiving of the bounty beyond the illusion, the illusion will support the journey, and the journey will support the expansion, and the expansion supports the ascension.

You are! We are...as I AM! And so it is.
