The T-12 Speak:

Hello! Beloved ones of a great world, of a great sun with its luminosity, joyosity and the gift of great love; we propel our energy from a crystalline dimension of experience to be here with you today.

Greeting the Luminescent Sun

Beloved angels of great light, the luminescent sun of your world stands as a beacon for all to hear, for all to experience, for all to be with; as each allows themselves the gift of the moment of Divine Presence.

When your heart awakens, when your heart sings, it is the awakening of the central sun of the universal wisdom of all dimensions culminating in the experience of divine light as one.

Beloved ones so simple and yet so profound, your sun appears to you as a sphere does it not?

It appears to you as a circle if you will, a never-ending hoop of Divine presence, and yet in your world there is great momentum from this never-ending presence, from this light, from this Divine energy.

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

Many of you will say: What do you mean, sun spot, solar flare?

We say: Yes. All of these energies, and yet it is a great and present moment to recognize when the sun must flare.

Many, and not so many perhaps, years ago, in your world experience of density, the electronic movement, for indeed it is a movement, did not control your world experience. There was a natural cycle of experience based upon the sun. And equally experienced through the resting time of the moon: the sun of the evening, is it not?

Two beautiful suns, the rising sun of the day and the rising sun of the night, that you call moon.

Embracing the Natural Rhythm

These two moons and these two suns...equal...offer to you a great experience of life, light, living and being-ness. When one is able to sink into the spacious experience of the sun and the moon without any interference energy then all balance and harmony restores.

And when your electronic experience came forward, and when the cycles of natural experience were disrupted, when one day was made into many days, and when one night is made into many nights, then the natural flow of the rhythm of the cycle of the ages becomes distorted, interrupted and enhanced in many ways also.

We wish to offer this to you with great understanding that in order for you to find the balance and the resonance that you seek within your own life experience, as part of a oneness life experience, that there is still a magnificent, glorious, dependable, illumination available, your sun and your moon. Your sun and your moon.

When you recognize that YOU ARE the sun, when you recognize that YOU ARE the moon, when you pay attention to the cycles of your Divine experience of density, you understand why you have come to this point now.

SRI & KIRA

Beloved ones, as you already understand that your brain is your servant, not you as the servant to the brain, then you are able to bring forward the energy of the electronic world as your servant rather than for you to be the servant of the electronic world.

Many in your world fear solar flare, they fear a moon shift, and in your world, indeed energies have already begun to facilitate, escalate and create...yes...create these experiences, to bring a greater recognition of fear to many that there is nothing they can control, thereby they should offer their control freely and willingly to those who will share that they have the secret of your control. We encourage you to review that again and pay attention.

When your giant sun flares, it is calling you to remember the flare of your own heart!

The Energy of of the Ever-Watchful Eye vs. The Ever-Present Light

In your world when your heart flares, when you send out the giant illuminated energy of your love, from your heart toward another, yes there is a response. Perhaps it is good for their computer to blow up. Perhaps it is good for the electronics to be disturbed for a moment. Perhaps an ever- watchful satellite needs a moment of break too, so that you may free yourself from the ever-watchful eye and be present to the ever-present light.

There is a great difference in these two energies.

And when you send your missiles to your moon in an effort to discover what may be in your moon, you indeed are also establishing a minute trajectory disturbance that will affect the waves of your planet thereby creating a new wave.

And when your heart beams your love toward the moon and when your heart holds fast toward the energy of the luminescent moon, then you can affect your own wave. And your wave is a wave of great love, presence, passion and understanding; Love, presence, passion and understanding. We say this again, love, presence, passion and understanding.

When one is able to be embraced by the balance of all illumination, experienced in your world as sun and moon as one illuminated energy, then one is able to indeed bring forward great presence, great love and great illumination without disturbing any.

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

Removing the Veil

You, beloved, one are seeking greater balance and restoration. In the experience of density now, in your world now, many cry out and seek outside assistance to regain their balance. They seek outside information, outside affirmation, outside medication, outside illumination, all outer focused.

And when you gaze into the solar flare of your own heart, you find the restoration of this harmony. And yet, beloved ones, in a world of mechanical machination, they expect, they offer, they invite, they induce, they encourage you to come deeper into the veil, deeper into the veil, deeper into the veil, deeper into the veil.

What veil is it? And how did that veil come forward?

The veil is the collective experience of the energy that is released in the sloughing of all negativity that is brought forward into a planetary thought body, thereby pressing upon you at all times.

It is enhanced, indeed it is fed by mechanical energies, electronic energies; and so it is richly fed. It is quite fat, is it not? Very richly fed, and many meals a day. Consistent meals, and a never-ending appetite to have more, have more, have more, so that more can feed back.

It is a cycle that once entered into cannot be removed from without the restoration of natural harmony, balance and soul restoral as found within the gift of this divine planet of experience through the sun, through the moon, through the breath, through the light, through the understanding that ALL mechanical energy is a servant...all.

Beloved Ones, are you a slave to what you would call your mechanical servants?

- Do you wake up to your email?
- Do you go to bed checking your email?
- Is your relationship with your email greater than your relationship with your heart, with your sun, with your moon?
- Do you spend as much time with your sun, with your moon, with your heart, with yourself as you do with your electronic interactions?
- Do you past electronic interactions to your ear so that you may share electronically as quickly as possible?
- Do you punch little letters into a computer or a mini computer so that you may stay in contact so quickly, never allowing the stillness to be?

Igniting Resurrection Energy

Beloved Ones, in your world now, there are the great resurrection energies igniting. The great resurrection energies are igniting from eons ago. Let us offer to you an explanation of this so that you may allow yourself to relax into this and have a greater presence of that which is coming forward.

In the seven resurrected cities, of the Divine seeding of light, on the planet of Gaia,
ALL have been buried for a very long time.

We go back now and begin with Tu'laya. In the beginning of the expression of light expanding and taking on the greater resurrection of expansion, light, love and divine presence it was in Tu'laya that you first took form. This form does not compute, as you would say and to stay with our example, in the way you experience form now.

And in the experience of Tu'laya, in the expansion of light, in the touching of the first experience of density, came and arose, the great recognition of the expansion continuation or the expansion completion. And from those two energies, the energy of the travelers was born, and moved forward into the experience of Su'laria.

And in Su'laria there was great experience: there was the resurrection of Tri-A-Saa, there was the understanding of energy, there was the understanding of light, and there was also the introduction of the manipulation of energy. The creation of energy beyond energy, thereby replacing the divine spark and creating that which was sparkles to serve when one felt that service was no longer a Divine principle.

And from that experience came the great conclusion. And at the moment prior to the great conclusion, the seven seeds were sent ahead to the world of Gaia that you are at now.

The O'laha began. Tu'laya, Su'laria, O'laha.

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

And in the O'laha, the seven seeds as magnetic crystalline structures were sent to this beautiful world you call Gaia, and in the area 20 degrees above your equator and 20 degrees below your equator, if you were to form a circle around the center of this sphere the seven seeds were left.

This map identifies the equator and they are describing 20 degrees above and below this line. The Tropic of Cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn are at 25 degrees to offer you a perspective.

And these seven seeds sprouted. And from the seeding of the seven seeds, many cities were born. All of these cities, all of these cities, could be called Atlantis: all of them. And yet, in your world, you have sought for just one. You look for just one, and you call it a lost continent, and there have been markers along the way to stimulate the recognition of the seven cities of crystalline experience, the seeds of the soul that were left in this world now.

And these seeds of the soul, these seven cities of divine experience are coming forward again. Many of them are among great bodies of water and some of this water is still visible, and some of this water has long left the area, however at the time that the seeding was left, all the seeding was in water...All of it.

You may ask why we share this with you now?

We share this with you now because you are in the moment of Divine resurrection. And in the moment of Divine resurrection it is like a very busy city at rush hour. Everyone is trying to get home because their show is about to begin.

And indeed it is. The greatest show ever has already begun and you cannot be late for it, nor will you miss it, nor will you need to be in a repeat of it, unless you choose.

This extraordinary unfolding is being supported by your planet, for indeed, her Divine central core is aligned with the seeding and received the seeding at the time the seeding came forward on the planet.

Energy in the Time of Great Questioning

There is no mystery of the giant conjunction; that which happens on the planet, that which happens in the universe the planet is suspended within. And as these seven central cities of seeding reveal themselves again you will head into a time of great questioning. And this is why it is important for you to be in natural harmony, natural balance.

If you allow yourself to be sustained artificially, or mechanically, then you will not be able to be in the natural alignment and realignment of that energy that is birthing forward for you again. Birthing forward for you...again.

Many will say, another Atlantis has been found! And we say, it was never lost.

It is a gift indeed for one to recognize that all of your resurrected energy is seeking to come forward. When you resurrect, when you come forward, it simply means one way of living has completed itself as the new way of living has birthed forward. Each is resurrecting and each is moving forward.

Great star children of many, many experiences, are re-illuminating their star energy and calling to their star brethren. They will come to your world with great and profound recognition in ways that have not happened before. And all, not some, ALL of them will be dismissed by those who seek to control you, who will bring forward plausible explanations, for those who seek to accept a plausible explanation, within 24 hours of all experiences. You have already had one of those experiences in this year, now.

In a world that seeks to resurrect, many seek to stay asleep. In a world that is a carrier of the seven seeds of Divine creation, many are afraid. In a world that is ready to lose all of her natural balance, there are those of you who wish to restore it.

The Great Ahhhh...haaaa Moment

In order to live a natural balance, one must allow the gift of natural balance to come back without fighting it. In a world where things have become more important than balance, once must look at the things in their life, and invite the balance to be.

What is truly important for you beloved ones?
And as you respond to that, do you have a veil of confusion still calling you into that response?

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

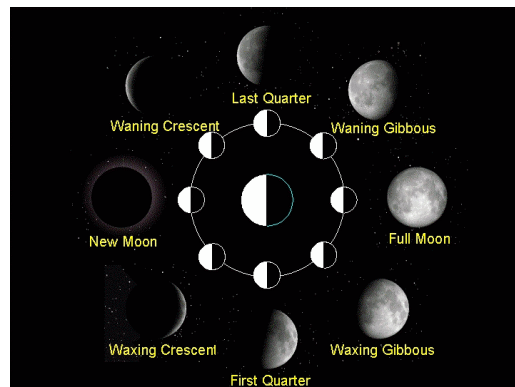

For when you bring your hands to your heart, when you activate the ascended heart, when you lift through the chakra of the truth, when you fully enter into the exploded crown, when you lift up into the energies of Divine creation, you will see the seven beautiful cities. The seven seeds will illuminate around the center core of your planet, and you will find those energies will come straight into your heart and the sun will seem more beautiful and the moon will seem more harmonious. And your experience of this planet will come into greater balance.

Many of you use the word A-ha to offer a momentary reconnection with an eternal wisdom you have always known. Ahhhh ha! Yes, we experience the A-ha with you, Ahhhhhh...haaaaa. Ahhhhhh...haaaaa

Even this beautiful experience can become richer and fuller when you breathe it rather than stifle it.

- Are you breathing spaciously?
- Are you in balance all-ways?
- Do you understand that your sun is a great steady determinate limitless stunning reminder of your own truth?

Gaze at your sun. Appreciate your sun. Gaze at your moon and watch it as it goes gloriously through its cycles, ever constantly renewing itself by taking rest, yet always renewing, always coming forward. Each cycle, each vision of the moon is a reminder of the cycles of your own experience.

When we step into the natural cycle of harmony, then all of the energies of EssSeeNah reignite. The golden sandals come forward effortlessly, the eyes become clear, the heart becomes stable and the experience of the life of density becomes a marvelous Ahhhhhh...haaaaa, indeed.

The Shift of ALL Prophecy and Prediction

It is a profound moment within your world now, for you have co-collectively joined hands together to manipulate the time stream, many of you consciously, and many of you without any conscious recognition at all.

All prophecy, we say this again, all prophecy, all prediction, has now become fluid, extremely fluid. And everything, everything, everything will unfold based upon the strength of the communities of light that gather without egoic presence and can offer back to the time-stream and to the energy of the planetary soup as we say, a gift of Divine recognition without a need to create an ending.

We stop for a moment for you to truly take this in.

Many communities of light are gathering now and many with an egoic presence of superior to, more enlightened than, one way or highway. And as these communities, in the auspices of light gather, they themselves are contributing to the planetary soup because of the spiritualized ego that is calling many together.

All communities that gather, and any word can be inserted here, we simply offer a word, so let us just say any gathering of those who come from the wholeness, to the wholeness, to the wholeness, without a need for an egoic expression of the divine purpose, and with the recognition of a co-creative manifest gift of Divine purpose...big difference...then we find and discover the ahhhhh...haaaa and the gathering becomes a sacred gathering that has no need for fanfare, no need for egoic attachment, no need for atta boy, good job.

Instead, you have the natural harmony the celebration of the sunrise, the celebration of the moonrise, the living in the simplicity while enjoying the complexity without becoming it. There is a great discernment filter that is being honed by all who are stepping into the magnificence of the illuminated energy that is abundant for you now.

Navigating Universal Ego

And as you step into this beauty, this abundance, there is a great moment of coalescence of ego on a galactic basis. And you might say; how can that be? How can you have lessons of ego on a galactic basis? We say simply because, all ego of the 12 worlds of density are conjoined, connected and have reestablished a stream of energy. So as all ego lifts and frees itself, where does it go? What happens to it?

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

Initially it will find a comfortable stream that is often still connected to the one that is transcending the density ego while moving, or let us say celebrating into the universal ego, which is egoless by the definition of density.

The Giant Mousetrap

There is a moment, a moment, where it is like a little mousetrap, with the best cheese ever. And it says, come to the cheese, and the ego says, I want the cheese, I want the cheese. And the ego is so strong it does not know that the cheese is not good cheese. It just sees the cheese. Yes! It is OK to laugh, indeed because the cheese is calling you!

And when the ego can see that the cheese is simply dressed, that it is indeed the wolf in cheese clothing, then the ego says, Aha, so close, and yet, ready to run, ready to leave, ready to effortlessly bring all attention and focus to the seven seeds of light that are re-illuminating, in the central core of your planet now.

Take a globe, take a map, look at these 20 degrees above and below. Bring your hands over the map, hold your hands on the globe and ask to see the seven seeds of light.

There are many of these beautiful seeds that have been long buried, only because of their alignment to hold energy with Gaia. Gaia is freeing herself beloved ones, and thereby when you are surrounded by the energy of planetary freedom in conjunction with the seven seeds of the original energies of your world, in conjunction with a universal central harmonic alignment, you have no choice...you will be freed!

SRI & KIRA

And this takes limitless forms.

Take in your breath and move forward. For as you move forward, there are many, many, many revelations ready to pour forth, and we are honored to assist with your Divine memory. Beloved Ones, all prophecy, all predictions are no longer filled with the power that they have once held on your world.

YOU...consciously as you connect with this energy, have the ability as you step into the natural gathering of harmony and flow, and to bring forward for yourselves, that which you seek to balance.

And you must remember that any energetic output will find a balance. It is no just limited to that which you feel is sacred or loving. ANY energetic output will find a balance. This is not karma. For many of you may say, Is that not karma?

It is an energetic balance ripe in the moment of resurrection. Pay attention to where you are seeking to go. Many will find their way to what you call equatorial areas, because of the need to hold the energy of the seeds of the Divine origin of your planet. And many will find themselves as far away as they can, either as energetic bridges, or as those who cannot be near that energy again.

All is unfolding. All is coming forward.

It is a moment of balance, and in the moment of balance where do you find yourself. Your breath is an Ahhhhh...haaaaa. Your balance is with you all-ways. And beloved ones, let the ego recognize the cheese that is before it, so that you may avoid all traps and move forward effortlessly. We love you dearest ones, and so it is!
