Delivered at the TOSA Self-Ascension Center

January 2013

The Cosmic Energy of the T-12 speak:

Hello beloved angels of great light, great character. Yes. We use this word, (character), and great love. We welcome thee to what we would like to call The Celebration. It is indeed the moment of celebration.

For to call forth, to manifest, to be present with, and to understand a celebration is to be present...To be present.

Welcome to THE Celebration

We smile as we offer this to you; for in your world you often offer “a present” as part of a celebration, do you not? Yes, indeed.

We have come here today to offer to thee an opportunity to simply connect with us in THE Celebration. This celebration is expansive, it is indeed universal, and it is ultimately cosmic.

Expansive, universal, and cosmic.

We offer all to thee as a series of the three. For in the series of the three, you find the steadfast energy that supports the growth, that supports your recognition.

For indeed, there is only one reason for celebration.

It is that you have anchored the truth of your divine knowing while in a body of form: The true enjoyment of this Self-Ascended state.

Within the Self-Ascended state, there are many celebrations, yet this is THE Celebration. It is THE Celebration.

Learning to BE with the Experience of the Journey

Within the depth of this celebration, there are many aspects of thy journey that we wish to offer to thee today to simply be with...To simply be with.

Let us first enunciate for thee that to be with the aspects of the journey that we are here to offer to you in the celebratory manner as part of THE Celebration, is to first and foremost release engaging these journey experiences with the brain.

To be with an experience is simply that...To BE WITH it.

There are many, many aspects to the being, are there not? And yet you may say, "It seems there can only be one aspect to being."

We smile for to be in the being is all of the aspects of witnessing the journey, of witnessing all that you have experienced, do experience, are experiencing, and ever will experience.

Within this one experience: You...Be.

Imagine if you will, a simple way to be. We have offered to thee through our brethren, a practice that we offer and to simply, Pop the Cork¹. If you practice the Pop the Cork presence, then it will offer to thee the experience of being the witness of the witness.

An as you would say, next level, or second-tier, or greater expanded presence to the beingness. We encourage thee to Pop the Cork often, for in this moment of The Celebration, comes the recognition that to Pop the Cork is to be.

And to be offers to you the witness of the witness.

The Witness of the Witness.

If we were to offer you one sentence that would expand upon everything that we are offering you today, it would be the witness of the witness is The Celebration.

The First Aspect of the Celebration

So let us continue now, we first wish to say Hello. And you may say, "Who is this that is speaking? You feel familiar, but yet different. You feel very cosmic, yet I am not sure."

We are the divine unified stream of all cosmic entities that are now surrounding this planet in all dimensional spaces beyond third dimensional reality. We have come in many forms before. We are most commonly known to you as the T-12, yet our voice may sound different than the T-12. Yet we offer this for we are each a representative as we are a collective as we simply Are.

Let us offer to thee aspects for the to be with as part of The Celebration of your journey.

The first aspect is the human emotions...The human emotions.

For many of thee, as you travel through the body of this world, this world of Gaia now, this third dimensional experience, you become aware and acquainted with emotions over and over and over again.

And as you travel through the linear timeline of a lifecycle, the emotions find themselves traveling with you.

Often as you become more, let us say, comfortable with your experience, because you have simply years more with the experience, you move through patterns of inquiry.

You move through patterns of self-inquiry.

You move through patterns of experience with your own emotions.

SRI & KIRA

Sometimes, as you near what you perceive to be the end of one lifecycle, you begin to have regrets that come in from the emotional body.

"I wish I would have. I wish I could have. If only I could."

Often times when certain beings reach an age that feels to them to be extended, they wish to start again. "If only I could be this age now. If only I could do this now."

To celebrate the human emotions is to be!
Be the witness of the witness, and smile.

For when you release the attachment to the human emotion, when you are the witness of the witness, then indeed The Celebration has begun.

The Second Aspect of the Celebration

The next aspect that we wish to offer to thee, is interaction in the human community.

To live as a hu-man, to be in a world of only hu-mans.

There are many worlds that have many different species of similar consciousness that exist simultaneously, and quite harmoniously, some of them with human genetic material.

However in this world, to choose a single species experience of interaction on a conscious level, to live in hu-man community, is an aspect of the journey that is unique to this world.

In this singularly centered experience, in this single species experience, is the great opportunity to not be limited by the experience,
to literally dive into the complexity of the experience.

SRI & KIRA

Universal Lessons of Wisdom
ARCHANGELIC INSOULMENT

As you dive into the complexity of the experience, it is natural in the cycle of the experience to have a limited perspective or view, to have limited beliefs or understandings because you are in a world of one species of consciousness.

Now yes you may say, “What about the animals, the whales and the Dolphins especially. What about the other mammal like experiences.”

Yes, indeed they have their offering. However, your experience...the Be moment...The Celebration moment...is to let go of a dream of what you feel community is, and to embrace the gift that this is the human community.

There is no need to separate. There is no need to carve out.

When you are able to celebrate the human community, you have discovered the community that has been calling to thee from deep within.
You become the witness of the witness.

The Third Aspect of the Celebration

The third aspect of this journey that is part of The Celebration that we wish to offer to you today is simply that of breath.

Now this has much to it, indeed. And the reason that we offer it to you as breath, is because breath animates the physical form. Oxygen, the combination of environmental factors that bring forward on this planet the support and the sustaining of the experience, all comes down to breath.

There are many things needed to sustain a full human experience.

SRI & KIRA

Universal Lessons of Wisdom
ARCHANGELIC INSOULMENT

Breath, water, fuel known as food, and certain protections for the body. Yet the one that has the absolute most critical, most critical need, is breath.

For indeed you can sustain life without the others for longer durations than you can sustain without breath. Without breath, or the ability to take in breath, or the ability to indeed, we use the word, digest breath, there is no ability to be part of the human community or to experience the emotionality.

And within the community experience and the emotionality, all other aspects of the journey come forward...All of them. Yet you must have the breath.

To celebrate the breath is to be with breath.
Be with breath.

And you will find, and we smile again, that when you are with breath, when you can “be one with” breath, you will find you are barely using breath. You become one with the atmosphere, rather than needing to take from the atmosphere.

The Witness of The Witness

When you gaze at these three aspects, then we are together in The Celebration, for in The Celebration is the witness of the witness.

To be a witness of the witness is to break free of that which attaches you to this experience, to this sole mechanism.

This is a vibrantly awake mechanism that sustains all of the experience of the traveler before. And when you are able to fully engage the practice of the “Pop the Cork”, you will discover that suddenly you are beyond even the breath. You are beyond even the breath. Beyond the breath, beyond the human community, and beyond the emotionality.

To go beyond the breath, the human community, and the emotionality, is to join in The Celebration at the cosmic reunification.

Before you now, in your world now, there are many experiences that seek to, and we shall use the word entrap; entrap you in one of these three aspects.

SRI & KIRA

Universal Lessons of Wisdom
ARCHANGELIC INSOULMENT

Entrap you in the emotionality, this is probably the single most fertile, yes fertile, aspect that is alive now. Because within emotionality wraps in financial attachment, familial attachment, work, any type of aspect of the sustaining of the paradigm of what it is to be here.

And then there is the human community. The recognition that as the experience of this planet is becoming globalized, there is a greater recognition of the greater community, and yet with it rises greater judgment which then brings you back to the emotionality.

Do you see how this is together?

And then of course with the breath, pay attention to the environmental sustaining factors of your world now. There are a great many experiences that seek to shorten your breath, tighten your breath, congest your breath, pollute your breath.

To play in the field of emotionality, community, and breath, at the level of the third dimensional aspects will indeed be a rich and powerful experience in the coming, we will use your word, years, ahead.

To Pop the Cork, to become the witness of the witness, and to literally, we will use the word, bob, like a little Cork on the water, to feel fluid, to bob, to be, through these three aspects is to literally join and recognize that a celebration has already begun.

You are invited, you are welcome, you have the invitation. It has been engraved with your name from time immemorial. Do you wish to come in? The door is open. Or do you wish to wait a little longer?

The Celebration has begun.
The Celebration is already before you.
Dive into The Celebration and Pop the Cork.

Be the witness of the witness and together we shall dance into the harmonic fields of greater wisdom and expanded harmony. It is the moment that is upon thee now, and it is the moment of recognition that thy has waited for.

Feel now the witnessing of the emotion, and gently smile.
Feel now the witnessing of the human community and gently smile.
Feel now the gentleness of the breath, and gently smile.

Ignite the balloon of divine illumination in the belly.
Lift it ever so gently to the head,
and as you are ready exhale, pop,
and become the witness of the witness.

We are here and we celebrate with thee.
The Celebration has begun.
The Celebration is grand.
And the moment is before you.
And so it is.
